PROFILE

Based in London with a background in event management. There are many parallels between event management and UI/UX design with customer/user experience at the very heart. I approach my work with empathy, always putting myself in the users shoes first, and I am passionate about creating positive change through simple and meaningful interface designs which are easy to navigate.

EXPERIENCE

CO-FOUNDER & DESIGNER

Yoga Kind Collective, London | Jul 2020 - to date

TESTIMONIAL

"As a conference speaker, my interactions with Veronica were treated not only beyond professional, but warm like we'd known each other for years. Veronica is a true testament to what an event organizer should be, putting the individual she's working with at ease, concern-free and taking care of in times you need it most—often before you even realize it's needed."
